EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES.

When the office of Bishop of Washington was vacant one of the names mentioned as suitable for election was that of the Archdeacon of Richmond, in the Diocese—we had almost written archdiocese—of New York, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Burch. The archdeacon has now been elected as a suffragan bishop for New York, this being the first election of the kind held in the country. New York is thus the first diocese to take advantage of the new provision for suffragan bishops. The election was almost unanimous on the first ballot, and was made unanimous by a rising vote. As in the event of the election of any other bishop, the election must be confirmed by the standing committees and the bishops of the church.

The Rev. Paul F. Hoffman, lately in charge of Grace Church, Baltimore, during the absence of Dr. Powell, the rector, has become assistant at St. Paul's Church, Baltimore. Rev. Dr. Kinsolving, rector.

To-morrow being the Sunday next before Advent, sermons will be preached in very many of our churches on the work of the Church Temperance Society. The work of the society is necessarily a long and arduous one. Habits, prejudices, and social customs are all so many entrenched fortresses, and it is earnestly desired to obtain the co-operation of every patriotic citizen in the organized campaign now being carried on by this society. Practically all the bishops have given their names as approving of the work and wishing it success in their several dioceses.

Whenever the new Memorial Guild Hall of St. Alban's parish is built—and its erection and completion are expected at no distant day—the rector, Rev. Dr. Bratenahl, has been given a promise of all the chairs which may be needed and a piano besides. This proposed guild hall is to be a very beautiful one. The design was prepared by Mr. Frederick A. Kendall and Mr. Arthur B. Heaton. It will be built of Potomac and Indiana limestone and will cost, furnished and completely equipped, $30,000. The main hall will be 80 feet long by 35 feet wide, giving ample space for the Sunday school, for lectures and for social gatherings for the people of the neighborhood. In addition, provision is made for the choir, for the various societies, an office for the administration work of the parish, and a kitchen.

The guild hall will be in memory of several parishioners who have entered into rest, chief among them being Miss Mary Nourse and Miss Rosa Nourse, whose legacies to St. Alban's parish enabled the work to be begun.

Thursday last Bishop Harding was in Christ's Church parish, Choptank, where rector, Rev. Mr. Wright, was for a short while assistant minister. John S. Georgetown, but who soon heard the call of the country congregation to come back to them and be their rector again.

To-morrow the bishop will be in St. Mary County. He will officiate at 11 a. m. in All Faith Church, Mechanicsville, and at 4:30 p. m. will be in Dent Memorial Chapel, at Charlotte Hall, one of the handsomest church edifices in the country parts of this diocese.

The bishop of the diocese has asked the clergy to send him the names of the vestrymen of the parishes and ten other representative laymen, that he may place them on his mailing list.

The Incarnation Church bazaar opens Thursday, December 1, at 11 a. m. and closes Friday, December 2, at 6 p. m. Immediately following the closing of the bazaar at National Rifles armory the Mission Play lecture will begin at 8 p. m.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Interesting facts of progress were brought out in the meeting of the Baptist convention this week. The Columbia Association of Baptist Churches received during the past year 782 additions, of which 407 were by baptism. The total membership of the association is now 7,719. The number enrolled in Sunday schools is 6,673. The contributions during the past year from all Baptists in the association was $128,917.

The Second Baptist Church was chosen as the place for holding the meeting of the association next year. Various churches have requested the assistance of the association. The Metropolitan Church desires $10,000 toward a new building, and the following churches wish assistance for the support of pastors: Congress Heights, Randle Highlands, Italian Mission, Chevy Chase, and Emmanuel. Rev. John Compton has been designated as chairman of the executive committee having charge of city missionary work.

A committee consisting of Rev. John E. Griggs, Dr. Samuel H. Greene, S. W. Woodward, Rev. Hugh F. Stevenson, George E. Truitt, J. J. Dorington, and Charles E. Warner was appointed to consider the reorganization of the board on modern lines; also to aid the committees on co-operation of the Northern and Southern Baptist conventions, and for an aggressive movement of Baptists in the District.

Rev. Dr. H. T. Musselman, national secretary of the Baptist Publication Society, is conducting at Bethany Church every Monday evening a district training course, which by the courtesy of the Bethany Church is made open to all churches of the city who are interested. Among the topics taught will be "Pupils and how to treat them," "Modern Sunday school methods," and religious pedagogy.

A reception was tendered the new pastor of the Hyattsville Church, Rev. A. I. Nasmith, last Wednesday. Mr. Nasmith, last Wednesday, as missionary to China, but will serve the Hyattsville church until such time as he will leave for the Orient.

TEACHERS' NAMES REQUIRED.

Children to Place Signs Above Schoolroom Doors.
Superintendent of Schools Stuart has issued an order requiring that the name of each teacher and the grade of the class be placed over each classroom door in the public school buildings.

This will remove the necessity of visitors seeking the names of the teachers or the location of rooms, which has caused much annoyance.

The signs will be made by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, who are taught lettering, and will tack them above the doors of their classrooms.

Maj. Gen. Elliott Retired.

Orders were issued at the Navy Department yesterday placing Maj. Gen. George F. Elliott, commandant of the Marine Corps, on the retired list on November 20. His successor has not been selected.

Honors to Swedenborg.

To-day is the day fixed for the solemn unveiling in the Cathedral of Upsala of the Swedenborg sarcophagus erected by vote of the Swedish Parliament at an expense of 10,000 kroner. Among those receiving invitations to the ceremony is the Rev. Dr. Frank Sewall, of this city.

At the recent International Swedenborg Congress in London, his majesty King Gustav of Sweden lent his patronage, and Count Wrangle, the Swedish Ambassador, took part in the opening ceremonies as representing the Swedish Government. He was for many years an active and highly esteemed member.

o'clock, under the auspices of the Church of the Incarnation. Mrs. Harriet E. Munroe is to be the lecturer.

Rev. William Watson, of Mexico, working under Bishop Aves, is to be in this city this coming week. While here he will preach at Trinity Church, and also at Christ Church, Georgetown.

They are about to try the merits of a rummage sale at Grace Church, South Washington, as a means of raising money for their church expenses. At Grace Church the financial problem is yearly becoming more acute. On December 7 Bishop Harding is to meet the congregation to talk over the situation. It is to be hoped that this old parochial organization, one of the oldest in the District, can be maintained intact, though it may be found advisable to change the present location.

The Diocesan Mission Study Class, conducted by Mrs. George H. McGrew, will hold its first meeting Monday, November 21, at 2:30 p. m., in Epiphany Parish Hall. The book, "Stewardship and Missions," will be used as a study book.

There will be meetings on the four following Mondays at 2:30 o'clock. The course promises to be unusually interesting, and the Sunday school teachers of the diocese will do well to attend the sessions.

Bishop McKim, Bishop of Tokyo, Japan who was to have addressed the St. Thomas branch of the Woman's Auxiliary on Tuesday next, has telegraphed that owing to his plans having been changed by an earlier sailing, he will have to cancel his engagement, along with some others of a similar nature.

The first regular meeting of the Sunday School Institute for this season was held November 15 at Epiphany Parish Hall, with Rev. H. Scott Smith, D. D., first vice president, in the chair. The meeting was fairly well attended, and the addresses given aroused much interest and drew forth some spirited discussion. Mr. Kramer's subject, "The interest of the child; securing and retaining attention," came on first. He defined interest as "mental attraction," and pointed out that one of the most important but neglected things in teaching a Sunday school class was to get all the scholars' attention at one and the same time.

Rev. G. Freeland Peter made a comparison of Sunday school attendance with that of the past. He thought that there had been no material increase for the past ten years. Rev. C. E. Buck, Rev. C. Whitmore, Rev. E. M. Mott, and Rev. H. G. England all took part in the discussion, which seemed to take Mr. Peter's statements for granted and only sought to know where the responsibility lay—a question of extreme difficulty.

Rev. J. Townsend Russell, of the Diocese of Long Island, is at the Highlands school of the National Catholic School for Boys.

Thursday night the popular Bishop of Alaska, Bishop P. T. Rowe, was at the Cathedral School for Girls, giving an address on the subject of "The girls of the future." Last year the girls gave the bishop a day which they named the "National Cathedral School for Girls." The bishop probably shortened the name in common use, but just how he did it we have not heard.

On Thanksgiving Day liberal offerings are asked from the faithful of the churches for the superannuated and disabled clergy of Washington. This will probably be the last occasion on which offerings will be asked in this form, the local fund being about to be merged in the general fund which cares for the indigent clergy of the whole church.
